

WHO THIS IS FOR

Extraction decisions get expensive fast.

ExtractOS is built for licensed and near-licensed cannabis operators who need the facility, people, data, and product plan to make business sense before capital is locked in.

HOW WE START

Start with a 20-minute facility-readiness review. We look for the extraction, staffing, equipment, workflow, and operating risks most likely to cost money before launch.

01

Craft growers adding extraction

Convert flower and trim into higher-margin products without trapping cash in the wrong equipment, facility flow, or product mix.

02

Processors preparing to launch

Commission the facility to spec, train the team, and shorten the path from buildout to reliable production and first revenue.

03

Operators fighting inconsistency

Improve yield consistency, COA pass rates, throughput, downtime visibility, and the day-to-day decisions that protect margin.

04

Teams that need ongoing management

Keep SOPs, training, software, production targets, and accountability connected after launch instead of hoping the handoff holds.
